KOČEVJE · 11.-16. OKTOBER 2018

SUBSTANTIVE REPORT OF THE FESTIVAL OF WOOD 2018

1. COMPETITION PRIMAL CHAIR 2018 June 13 - September 8

This year, the 4th international (Primal) chair competition for the design of a wooden chair took place as a tribute to the Kočevje rainforest. The composition of the expert jury was also changed this year.

The jury consisted of:

- dr. Janez Suhadolc, president of the jury
- dr. Jasna Hrovatin, Faculty of Design
- Nataša Lapajne, Museum of Architecture and Design
- Rok Kuhar, Academy of Fine Arts and Design
- Andrej Palman, Gimnazija in srednja šola Kočevje

The jury was already involved in the preparation of the text of the competition. With new proposals, we updated the call for tenders, which consequently led to a larger number of applications. 17 authors with 21 design proposals applied for the competition. We received most of the applications from Slovenia, some from Croatia and Serbia, and from India and Sweden.

The jury chose the EKGREN chair by Katarzyna Waśniowska from Sweden for the first prize. The second prize went to the CHAIRMOCK chair by Anže Erklavec from Slovenia. The third prize went to the PETLYA chair designed by Shaurya Volvotkar and Gopalkrishna Pai Kane, who was the winner of last year's competition. All three selected chairs were made in the form of a prototype.

The winner of the competition from Sweden took part in the award ceremony at the opening of the Wood Festival 2018. During her stay in Kočevje, she participated in various festival events and visited the rainforest Krokar.

2. FESTIVAL OPENING

October 11, Kulturni center Kočevje

The opening of the 6th Festival of wood was marked by the awarding of the "Piece of Wood" prize for the best design proposals of the 4th International Industrial Design Competition (Primal) chair.

The festival was opened by Mag. Meta Kamšek, event manager of the Festival of Wood and Vladimir Prebilič, Mayor of the Municipality of Kočevje. The keynote speaker was dr. Janez Suhadolc, President of the Jury of the (Primal) chair 2018 competition.

As part of the opening of the festival, a wooden sculpture entitled Memory of Youth in Predgrad by Croatian artist Denis Krašković was presented. Due to complications in the installation of the sculpture, we presented it only with its image in the photograph. The mentor in making the sculpture was doc. Marko Glavač, academic sculptor. Architect Zvonka Korošac provided assistance in arranging the permit and placing the sculpture in the space. The author's arrangement for this year's sculpture was prepared by: Roman Zupančič, Sebastjan Vukan and Zoran Bitorajc.

A special feature of this year's opening of the Festival of Wood was related to the famous architect Niko Kralj. Dr. Veronika Kralj Igljč announced the mutual cooperation between the Festival of Wood, MAO and the high school by symbolically handing over her father's plans for wooden toys to the principal of Srednja šola Kočevje.
